CHINESE MAKES CONFESSION IN CASE OF MURDER OF PRETTY WHITE GIRL

SEES HER BODY ON BED IN THE ORIENTAL DEN OF MURDERER

Startling Statements Are Made to Police of New York in the Elsie Sigel Tragedy

NEW YORK, June 22.—Chung Sin, the friend of Leon Ling, gave way under severe questioning today and made an important statement to District Attorney Jerome. It was reported at first that Chung Sin said he saw Leon strangle Miss Sigel to death. This was not exactly correct, the District Attorney said.

Mr. Jerome said to the reporters: "It is a long story and you will have to wait until a statement is written out."

Chung Sin told Mr. Jerome he saw Miss Sigel's dead body in Leon Ling's room on the morning of June 19. It was lying on the bed with a handkerchief over the face. He saw the body also he said after it had been placed in the trunk.

Chung Sin told the District Attorney that Leon asked him for assistance in putting the body of Miss Sigel into the trunk, but Chung refused. When Chung asked Leon the cause of Miss Sigel's death, Leon told him she "bit her tongue and died." Chung was told by the coroner in $1000 bail as more than a material witness.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Chung Sin, an associate of Leon Ling, and who occupied a room adjoining that in which Elsie Sigel's body was found, was brought to this city today from West-gate, N. Y.

Asked why he left New York in a hurry, he said he had been engaged to go to Westgate and work for Harvey Kennedy and that he left New York on Wednesday, June 11.

Wednesday was the day on which Miss Sigel disappeared and June 11 was Friday, two days later. Questioned about his sincerity, the Chinaman took refuge in denial and thereafter gave that response to all questions, including one as to whether or not he was in the room when the murder was committed.

Reward Is Offered

The Oriental Club of this city, an organization of Chinese, today offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderer of Miss Sigel.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 22.—Reginald Sigel, brother of Elsie Sigel, after coming to this city, the Chinese arrested here yesterday, declared that he was not Leon Ling or Leon Ling, the alleged murderer of Miss Sigel.

It was later decided that the prisoner has fairly made out his claimed identity as Chu Gan and that he should be released, soon after certain formalities had been complied with.

Chu Gan, being closely questioned, said that he knew Elsie Sigel, at whose home he had visited on an average of once every two weeks, but denied that any engagement or marriage had ever been suggested between them.

Denies Making Love

He denied that he had ever made love to the young woman and declared that only in her letters to him had she ever displayed affection for him. Elsie Sigel often visited his restaurant, but always accompanied by her mother.

Chu said he knew Leon Ling, but the relations existing between them were of the most formal character. He had never known him to have any exchanged confidences with him.

After his examination by the coroner, Chu Gan was released in $1000 bail.

Search For Suspect

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 22.—The reported suspect in the murder of Elsie Sigel, a Chinese, is believed, however, that Leon may be one of a number of Chinese who will arrive at Vancouver today or tomorrow. These Chinamen are coming from the East in bond and are bound for China.

PITTSBURG, June 22.—A Chinaman from New York answering the description of Leon Ling, wanted for the alleged murder of Elsie Sigel, was arrested today morning. Later, however, he was released, the police being convinced he was innocent.

Wealthy Man Is Sued By Woman Delective For Her Shadow Work

A. W. Morrison, said to be a wealthy resident of Sacramento, was made defendant in a suit brought in the Superior Court today by Mrs. Ida Hagler of this city, a private detective, to recover $2175 on a contract for professional services rendered.

Attorney T. S. Gray appears for Mrs. Hagler. In her complaint she alleges that between January 12 and February 27, 1909, she performed services for Morrison, as his special instance and request in the capacity of a private detective, in ascertaining facts and gathering certain information concerning certain persons shadowing them, in fact, and in advising Morrison in reference thereto.

Mrs. Hagler says that the services

Pastor Captures Burglar, But Friend Lets Him Go

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—After dramatically capturing a burglar, whom he had apprehended almost in the act of robbing his church, and after an exciting chase through the streets early this morning, the Rev. E. L. Walz, pastor of the Green-Street Congregational Church, residing at 613 Green street, was aroused from sleep by the sound of a man coming through a window of the church building, and determined to watch for him.

As the intruder was making his way from the edifice with a bundle of clothes under his arm, the clergyman pounced down upon him.

The burglar broke away and ran, but Walz again captured him, and decided to turn him over to the police. He therefore handed him over to a friend who was passing while he went to the telephone.

When he returned he discovered that the burglar had broken away and made a successful dash for liberty. When Officer T. J. Curtis arrived with the patrol there was no prisoner to remove and he contented himself with taking a report to headquarters.

The burglar is described as five feet four inches in height, stocky build, dark complexion, with dark hair and a small black mustache. He was attired in a suit of blue material.

Verdict in Famous Davoust Suit Set Aside and New Trial Granted

In granting the motion of City Attorney M. W. Simpson, of Alameda, for a new trial, Superior Judge Ellsworth this morning set aside the verdict in the famous Davoust suit against the City of Alameda, which was rendered by the jury on September 23, 1908, and the suit was filed shortly thereafter.

The City of Alameda was sued by Davoust for $50,000 for the death of his wife, who was killed by coming in contact with a live wire of the municipal electric light plant of the Island City. Mrs. Davoust was electrocuted on September 23, 1908, and the suit was filed shortly thereafter.

When it first came up in the Superior Court, Attorney Simpson secured a non-suit of the case, claiming that a municipality may not be held liable for the acts of its servants, unless it is specifically made liable by statute. This decision was appealed from by counsel for Davoust. The Supreme Court reversed this ruling and remanded the case for trial.

Delays followed over a period of years, and it was not until last September, a decade after the fatal accident, that the case was finally brought to trial. Then a jury returned a verdict of $9000 damages in favor of Davoust.

On the motion for a new trial submitted this morning, City Attorney Simpson attacked the verdict on the ground that the instructions of the court with reference to negligence were so worded that the jurors were able to misconstrue and might have formed a false notion of the liability of the City of Alameda. Judge Ellsworth held that the point was well raised, set the verdict aside and granted the new trial.

Wife Kidnaped Their Children and Hid Them, Says Husband in Divorce Suit

Alleging that ever since the beginning of their marital troubles his wife had been plotting to kidnap their two children and leave with them for parts unknown, and finally succeeded in securing them from him, Leslie Galbraith today morning brought suit for a divorce from Nellie Galbraith in the Superior Court on the ground of extreme cruelty and for the custody of the children.

Galbraith states in his complaint that several years ago he was compelled for business reasons, to remove to Osgood, Cal. His wife refused to accompany him and threatened to allege that if he attempted to force her to go East she would run away from him with the two children, and that he never would see them again. Ever since that time and on occasion of their marital troubles his wife has been plotting to kidnap their two children and leave with them for parts unknown, and finally succeeded in securing them from him, Leslie Galbraith today morning brought suit for a divorce from Nellie Galbraith in the Superior Court on the ground of extreme cruelty and for the custody of the children.

Further than this, the complaint charges Mrs. Galbraith has been in the habit of associating with "idle, dissipated, lewd and common people," mentioning in particular John McMahon, a bartender, and a man by the name of John Pritchard. Galbraith also charges that on June 6, while he was away from home on business, he left the home, furniture and effects and ran away with the children, whose whereabouts she refuses to disclose.

Friends "Joshed" Her Over Husband's Treatment, She Says in Divorce Suit

Extreme cruelty is the ground upon which Therese Flak bases the suit for divorce which she began this morning in the Superior Court against Carroll Flak. She says, in her complaint, that immediately after their marriage they established their home at 1905 Grove street and two months subsequently Flak began to exhibit a total lack of desire for her company. When she asked him why he repudiated her he did not want to be tied down to any woman. Plaintiff also alleges that instead of coming home in the evening he would remain away from home after midnight and spend his time with women of ill-repute. Mrs. Flak alleges that her husband's treatment has caused her to be "ridiculed and joshed" by her friends and acquaintances.

DENY GOULD'S COACHMAN HUGS MRS. GOULD

Plaintiff Summons Witnesses to Prove That She's Not Guilty

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE TO TESTIFY AGAIN

More Than Score of Persons Are Yet to Testify at Hearing

NEW YORK, June 22.—The task of obtaining the testimony of using profane language and intonation on the part of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing her husband, Howard Gould, for separation and alimony, was continued at the trial today.

Mr. Shearn, the plaintiff's counsel, said he had about thirty more witnesses to call and that Mrs. Gould would probably testify again. The case is expected to occupy several days more of court.

James J. Brennan, who was employed as a foreman at Castle Gould from May, 1904, to May, 1905, testified that he often met Mrs. Gould on the estate and never saw her intoxicated or heard her use abusive language.

Disputes Testimony

Brennan disputed the testimony of Carlson, the coachman, to the effect that he took Mrs. Gould driving on the brake in October, 1904, when she was so intoxicated he drove with one hand, using the other arm to prevent her from falling.

Brennan said he saw Mrs. Gould and Carlson start out on that occasion and that she mounted the high steps of the brake with agility and appeared in a perfectly normal condition.

Frank J. Bolin, who was chief aboard the yacht Niagara during the summer of 1903 and again in 1905, said he never saw Mrs. Gould under the influence of liquor nor heard her swear at the servants.

Smells No Liquor

Morris Benesch, a hair dresser, testified that he had dressed Mrs. Gould's hair on many occasions. He remembered one particular instance in February, 1906, when Mrs. Gould attended Miss Lannan's wedding in this city, about which Mr. Shearn asked him.

He said Mrs. Gould showed no signs of having drunk anything at that time. She was charged with intoxication on that occasion.

The witness said he had never smelled liquor on Mrs. Gould's breath or seen her under its influence on any of the occasions when he had dressed her hair.

$12 a Day Board

William K. Linn, proprietor of the Carroll Hotel in Lynchburg, Va., testified in regard to Mrs. Gould's stay at the hotel in Nov., 1906, when the defense contended that Dustin Farman and Mrs. Gould were there together and ate their meals in Mrs. Gould's rooms.

The witness produced a bill dated November 15, 1906, for $12.00 to Mrs. Gould, charging her $2 for 13 days board at the Carroll Hotel. The witness said he did not observe Mrs. Gould's movements about the hotel.

Close Watch on Guests

Arthur L. Barney, formerly assistant manager of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia, was questioned about the system of mirrors at the hotel by which it is claimed the floor clerks can see everyone entering or leaving the rooms on their floor.

Barney said this was a fact.

James H. Palmer, a theatrical manager who was with "The Virginian" in which Dustin Farman starred in 1905, testified that he accompanied Mrs. Gould and Farman in Mrs. Gould's automobile from Brooklyn to New York after the play on Saturday, September 29, 1906. It was the first and only time he had ever seen Mrs. Gould.

Falser stopped at the Somerset Hotel and Farman drove away with Mrs. Gould. Falser said he did not see Mrs. Gould in Mrs. Gould in Lynchburg, although he was in Mrs. Gould's automobile from Brooklyn to New York after the play on Saturday, September 29, 1906. It was the first and only time he had ever seen Mrs. Gould.

Daughter Is Born to the Spanish Queen

QUEEN VICTORIA, Of Spain, to Whom a Daughter Was Born Today. Her Other Two Children Are Boys.

LA GRAZIA, Spain, June 22.—The Queen of Spain was accouched of a daughter this morning and a number of high court personages were hastily summoned to the palace.

The birth of a princess is particularly pleasing to both the King and the Queen, as they hoped that this child, the third, would be a girl.

The first two children are boys, Prince Alfonso, born May 10, 1907, and Prince Jaime born June 23d, 1908. The eldest, the heir to the throne, is fair like his mother, but he has the protruding lip of his father, a pronounced characteristic of the Spanish Hapsburgs.

The second son, Jaime, on the other hand, is dark complexioned and looks the real Spaniard. He was named after Jaime the Conqueror, King of Aragon, as a compliment to the province of Catalonia which formed a part of the ancient kingdom.

The announcement was in every respect successful. The dowry, Queen Christina, the mother of King Alfonso, and Princess Beatrice, mother of Queen Victoria, were at the bedside of Her Majesty.

The booming of firearms announced the event in the morning. Thereafter, the general, Half an hour later the King, accompanied by the mistress of the robes, presented the infant to the dignitaries assembled in the ant-chamber.

The King has been showered with congratulations and in commemoration of the event he signed the pardon of several prisoners and reduced the punishment for a number of others.

Queen Victoria of Spain is a daughter of the late Prince Henry, Batterburg, and Princess Beatrice, daughter of the late Queen Victoria of Great Britain. She was married to King Alfonso of Spain May 31, 1906.

BANDITS FIRE ON TRAIN, SEEKING SILVER

Six Masked Men Hold up the Express, Believing it Has Bullion

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS THOUGHT TO BE ABOARD

Get Wrong Train. Search Cars and Then Escape in Waiting Boat

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 22.—Six masked men held up the Canadian Pacific West-bound Express No. 97 at Ducks, a few minutes before midnight, punched holes in three express cars and failing to find anything of value hurried to a waiting boat and crossed to the north side of Shuswap Lake. Ducks is 253 miles east of Vancouver.

It is believed by some of the railway men that the robbers intended to hold up train No. 5, the express from St. Paul, which had picked up at Revelstoke some silver bullion, shipped from trail to the Silver.

The St. Paul train carried about 90 bars of this bullion, worth in all a big aggregate value of the shipment being about $200,000. This theory, however, is discredited by some of the officials. It is pointed out that the weight of the silver was more than would make it worth any persons' while attempting to carry it off.

The more generally accepted theory is that the hold-ups were new at the business and were without information as to the train which carried valuable express matter and merely took a chance.

Hold Up Engineer

Two masked men crawled over the coal pile on the tender last night and jumping suddenly down on the floor of the cab leveled pistols at the engineer and fireman. It is believed that the men boarded the train at North Hill. They ordered the engineer to pull up the train at a signal he which he would see some distance to east of Ducks. Only a few minutes after the signal the fire came into the train, which was held up. The engineer slowed down and the train came to a standstill with in a hundred feet of the fire.

Fired as They Ran

Four men, all of them masked and each bearing a rifle, ran in the direction of the locomotive and fired a volley of shots. One man fired two shots in the air as he ran, evidently for the purpose of intimidating the train crew and passengers. There were no other shots fired during the hold-up.

The whole thing was over and the train started on its way in twenty minutes.

The leaders of the robbers forced the fireman to take an axe and break in the cab door. It is believed that the men boarded the train at North Hill. They ordered the engineer to pull up the train at a signal he which he would see some distance to east of Ducks. Only a few minutes after the signal the fire came into the train, which was held up. The engineer slowed down and the train came to a standstill with in a hundred feet of the fire.

New Tests For Wrights to Meet

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Despite the marvellous record they have been established by the Wright Brothers in the country and abroad, to comply with the government specifications, Orville Wright, in his trial flights at Fort Myer, soon to begin, will be compelled to meet certain conditions that are wholly new and untried.

Orville Wright, who has elected to complete the tests he began last fall, must fly over a measured course of five miles from Fort Myer and return. In order to receive the contract price of $100,000 a speed of forty miles an hour, with and against the wind, must be made. If less than thirty-three miles an hour is made the machine will not be accepted, and ten per cent of the contract price will be deducted for each mile less than forty miles made in the speed trial. # MOTT COMPARES OAKLAND WITH SISTERS

What Seattle and Portland Have Done to Forge to Front

"WE MUST MAKE MOST OF WHAT WE HAVE"

Mayor Tells of Difficulties Overcome in North and Opportunities Locally

Many ideas of Oakland's possibilities and the achievement of other cities were brought back by Mayor Mott from Seattle, where he attended the fair as one of the delegates of the California Promotion Committee of the California Promotion Committee.

Portland and Seattle, of course, were the two cities which commanded attention. These two cities have overcome all obstacles placed in their path by nature, and an unobtainable climate, and have made the most of what they got.

Portland had a rose capital with the 100 delegates of the California Promotion Committee were there, and Seattle showed off to great advantage because of the fair.

Mayor Mott pays a fine tribute to the pluck, courage and activity of the northern cities, but in his praise reserves first place of course for Oakland.

Causes Admiration

In speaking of the impressions made upon him during his trip Mayor Mott says:

"The fact that strikes the visitors with great force is that Seattle and Portland have made the most of what they got. The people are proud of what they have done, but show their pride in a way that is not only agreeable but causes admiration. Seattle has overcome enormous physical difficulties, principally battling with the hills and steep grades bestowed upon her by nature, and has made a beautiful city of erstwhile bleak promontories.

Intense Activity

Portland dazzles the visitor with her intense activity and the fact that her citizens make the most of what they have. The Portland Commercial Club is a union organization which perfectly reflects the civic enthusiasm of the city.

It is comprised of 1400 members. Daily 500 to 600 members dine in the spacious dining room and discuss what concerns Portland and how betterment may be brought about. It is an inspiring sight and the organization is certainly effective.

Each member of the California Promotion Committee had two members of the club to assist him to places of interest, and this is a record for hospitality.

"After visiting these two cities, Oakland assumes greater proportions than ever. With neither physical conditions to combat or climatic objections to overcome she has only to make the most of what she has to wear the crown of supremacy. If Portland has beautiful roses, we can match them, one for one. If Seattle has a fine water front we can measure mile for mile and not suffer by comparison.

Oakland Must Lead

"One thing is certain and that is Oakland by making the most of what she has."

The morning session was devoted to securing a jury to try the case.

BLOODHOUNDS TO SEARCH YOSEMITE

Gloves of F. P. Shepherd Lost in Valley Will Be Taken to Scene

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The search for F. P. Shepherd, the young man who was lost in the Yosemite Valley on June 17, has become a forlorn hope, but a last effort is to be made to find him with the aid of bloodhounds. Gloves belonging to Shepherd, which were found in his lodgings, are being taken to the valley, and from these the hounds will take their scent.

The return to Oakland of Dr. Charles E. Rice, who was a close friend of the missing man, has led to a renewal of the search. Dr. Rice, who has hunted out the gloves that may lead to the true trail and who is now taking them to the valley.

After the glove hunt, Shepherd fled from San Francisco in company with Dr. Rice and his wife, and the friendship then formed has steadily ripened. The young Englishman has the unbounded admiration of his friends, who speak with enthusiasm of the generosity with which he supports a married sister and her two children. They also state that he is a man of considerable literary talent, several of his poems and essays having been published by English periodicals.

Shepherd came to this city in 1902. After the fire he paid a visit to his people in England, and then returned here and re-entered the employ of Shreve & Co. as an engraver and diamond-setter. Recently he had been living at the Concord Hotel, 2302 Clay street.

The glove hunt out in the Yosemite Valley has returned to camp discouraged, having been unable to find any trace of the missing man.

Pay Last Tribute at Bier of Mrs. Butters

The funeral of the late Mrs. Henry A. Butters, who died a few days ago in the Valley, took place this morning from the church of St. Francis de Sales, at the corner of Grove and Hobart street. This was the church in which the deceased worshiped and of which, in life, she and her husband had been prominent among the benefactors. The vast auditorium was filled with mourners, people of the most exclusive circles, who had long been associates of the deceased in the social world, both on this and the other side of the bay. There were also present members of several sisterhoods of the Catholic church and persons in the humble walks of life who had been the beneficiaries of the gratuities of the deceased, and who had gathered for the purpose of remembering her benefactions in prayers for her eternal rest.

The candelabra on the altar were shrouded in black. The officiating clergy ministered in black and white dalmatics and the chanting of the psalms and the singing of the choir were intended to denote the last solemn farewell to a member of the church.

Under Pall of Roses

The remains rested on a catafalque at the head of the main aisle of the church and in front of the great marble altar. It was covered with a profusion of roses, St. Joseph lilies and orchids, the last tribute of the bereaved family of the deceased. Upon the lid, rested, also, a number of lighted tapers. While the casket was being borne up the aisle, the organ, under the masterly touch of Professor J. H. Dohmann, who is temporarily in charge of the instrument during the absence of Miss McNally, the organist of the church, improvised a funeral theme which added to the solemnity of the occasion.

A solemn requiem high mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul, sung to the strains of the organ. Rev. Thomas McSwiney, who for years has been a friend of the deceased, that gentleman was unable to officiate and, as a consequence, Rev. C. R. Baschab, one of the assistant pastors of St. Francis de Sales Church, acted as celebrant of the mass. Rev. W. J. Cantwell was deacon and Rev. J. O'Connor acted as sub-deacon. The position of master-of-ceremonies was filled by Rev. Francis Mallon of St. Columba's Church. There were also in the sanctuary, Rev. Edward P. Dempsey, Rev. E. X. Morrison, Rev. Father Burri, Rev. Father Robert Sampson, Rev. J. H. Cranwell, and Rev. T. Kennedy.

Render Mass

The choir rendered Wilcox's requiem mass in a very affecting manner, the "Benedictus" from Weber's mass in G being interpreted. The quartet choir consisted of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Waterman, Miss J. P. Venco, tenor and Professor Sandy, basso. At the conclusion of the requiem mass the benediction for the dead was chanted and also rendered in English by the celebrant. When the remains were being borne down the aisle at the close of the services, Professor Dohmann played Chopin's "Funeral March" in a tender and sympathetic manner. The remains were interred in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, the pallbearers being A. W. Clement, R. H. Bennett, C. G. Champion, C. G. Cambren, W. Wethard and S. Robinson.

Funeral March

UNITED RAILROAD BONDS TAKE JUMP

Securities Promise to Go Still Higher as Result of Calhoun Verdict

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The standing jury in the Calhoun case, which was practically for acquittal, has satisfied the financial world that there is nothing more to be feared from the attacks of the prosecution upon the United Railroads securities.

This was shown in a most convincing way here yesterday in the manner in which the securities of the United Railroads ruled in the San Francisco Stock Exchange, when the bonds of the company jumped upward one and a half points, or $15 a bond. Later in the day, a bid which would have been eagerly accepted on Saturday last would not be considered by any of the holders of the securities.

Holders of the bonds and stock brokers declare that the appreciation of the United Railroads securities was due to the verdict which was reached in the Calhoun trial on Sunday last, which was considered practically a verdict of acquittal.

Bonds Show Advance

At the morning session of the bond market there was a great deal of activity displayed in the matter of the bonds of the company. In question, not fewer than 21,000 of them having been disposed of at 77, which represents an advance of one and a half points over Saturday. In the afternoon, however, there was no holder of the securities who could be tempted to part with his holdings for anything like that figure. At that session there was quite a demand for the securities, but the holders asked 77 1/2, and would not let go for anything less. Brokers are of the opinion that the bonds will reach 80 in a few days.

These bonds are of $1000 denomination and are now worth $770 each, although none of the holders would sell them at that price now. They are 4 per cent bonds and have eighteen years to run, and therefore pay about 6 per cent on the investment. In 1906, before the fire, they sold at 92, and before the financial panic they held up to 84, even up to the time of the restoration of the railroad system. Since then, the commencement of the graft prosecution and the uncertainty of the future of the property have depreciated the value of the securities until yesterday, when the financial world came to the conclusion that there was nothing more to be feared from the vain attempts of the prosecution to show that there was any merit in its work.

To Go High

Bert Abrahamson, one of the leading stock brokers, discussing the matter, said: "It is positively the effect of the Calhoun verdict. I look for the bonds to be much higher, for the feeling is very optimistic this afternoon on the securities of the company. I may add that I expect the bonds to reach 80 in a few days and in the next few days and at 80 before the next coupon is due."

"People who buy or deal in bonds have been waiting until the trial of the president of the United Railroads was over before doing anything in the company's securities. Today that feeling has vanished. The verdict assured financiers, and then the expression of sentiment yesterday greeting the announcement of a verdict of ten jurors for acquittal contributed to restore confidence. The feeling that confidence in the United Railroads' bonds was restored."

Father Powers, Newly Ordained, Will Deliver First High Mass

REV. FATHER JOHN JOSEPH POWERS

The Rev. Father John Joseph Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Powers of 814 Twentieth street, who was ordained as a priest, June 11, in St. Paul's college, Minneapolis, by Archbishop Ireland, will pronounce his first high mass at St. Francis de Sales Church, June 27, where Rev. Father York will deliver the sermon. At the invitation of Archbishop Riordan, the honored priest will occupy the local pulpit, where he served Father McSweeney first as an altar boy, while still a student at St. Francis de Sales parochial school. Father Powers raised the first flag on that school building, when he was head of the League of the Cross Cadets. At the St. Francis de Sales school he distinguished himself from his classmates in scholarship. While at school he displayed great aptitude for learning and always expressed a desire to become a priest.

That vocation had always been the height of his ambition and he was encouraged by his teachers to follow a ministerial career.

Studied in Ireland

When a mere baby Father Powers came to Oakland from Indianapolis with his parents, who have lived here for many years. He was evident today. Capital, you know, is very limited. Capitalists today were ready to invest in United Railroads bonds, and I have no doubt they will be stronger tomorrow."

years. When a youth he traveled with his folks in Ireland, where he studied at Mt. Mellary College in County Waterford, Ireland. Upon returning to this city from Ireland he engaged in the dry goods business in San Francisco, where he worked four or five years prior to going to St. Paul's College. He earned his way partly through college. After the lapse of two years in that institution, Father Powers contracted a severe cold, which compelled him to return to Oakland. It was believed at that time that he had consumption and he was ordered to take a rest in the Arizona Sanatorium, where he recovered after three months when he again took up his studies in St. Paul.

Father Powers is in the California mission and will not go out of this jurisdiction for pupil work. Before arriving in this city Father Powers will visit the Arizona Sanatorium and the southern summer resorts en route to Oakland.

MADE FUN OF HER COOKING

Woman Had to Fall Down Stairs and Sprain Ankle to Quit Work

Because she could never please him with her cooking and he growled about everything she placed before him to eat, poked fun at her physical eccentricities and committed other alleged brutalities, Miss Cain secured an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court yesterday from Harry F. Cain. About three weeks after their marriage Cain became so disgusted with the nuptial contract he had made that he sold everything he possessed, drew what money he had from bank and shipped out. Cain ran a meat market before, decamping and his wife told the court that one day he had a quarrel with the driver of his delivery wagon and discharged him. Then he actually compelled his wife to take the job. For three weeks she was compelled to take orders and deliver meat, and the only way she could quit work was to fall down a flight of stairs and sprain her ankle.

COUSINS LEAVE STATE TO WED

Special-Train Takes Wealthy Pittsburghers to New York For Ceremony

NEW YORK, June 22.—Edward J. Kauffmann, son of Isaac Kauffmann, and his first cousin, Lillian P. Kauffmann, daughter of Maurice Kauffmann, all of Pittsburgh, came here last night in a special train and the first cousins will be married this evening at the St. Regis Hotel, where elaborate arrangements have been made. Pennsylvania laws prohibit the marriage of first cousins and for that reason they came to this city. The fathers of the young man and woman are proprietors of one of the largest dry goods stores between New York and Chicago. Miss Kauffmann said last night that she had known her cousin all her life, but had been engaged to marry him only recently. "Two special trains of Pittsburgh guests are expected today."

A Thrilling Rescue. How Bert R. Loan of Cherry, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he wrote, "broke out on my chest and lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and I am as well as ever."

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER. Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. B. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it incurable. On account of his age we were afraid not to stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint." "Twist Optimist and Pessimist. The difference is small. The optimist sees the doughnut, The Pessimist sees the hole." Some would say the best way to turn an optimist into a pessimist would be to feed him the doughnuts, and this would be true if the doughnuts are fried in lard. Lard is certainly indigestible and many people are deprived of the pleasure of eating doughnuts and other dainties just because of this fact. However, there is a cooking fat—COTTOLENE—which can be used in every way that lard can, and yet makes light, rich, delicious food that the most delicate stomach can digest with ease. COTTOLENE is making the world cheerier and brighter for thousands who were formerly suffering from the curse of lard-soaked food.

PUNISHMENT FOR CHAUFFEURS WHO GO ON 'JOY RIDES'

NEW YORK, June 22.—A novel manner of punishing chauffeurs who borrow their employers' automobiles for "joy rides" was discovered Saturday by Judson Todd, a realty driver, William Fole, on the charge of stealing ten cents worth of gasoline.

Foley took Mr. Todd's automobile out last Thursday night without permission and wrecked the car in an accident. Mr. Todd examined the tank of the machine, which was intact, and discovered that ten cents worth of gasoline had been used. In police court Foley was held in $500 bail for a hearing.

FALLS AND RUNS PENCIL IN EYE

Sharp Point Enters Socket and Sinks in Over an Inch

J. Letroadie of 727 Haight avenue, Alameda, a salesman, is suffering from a wound sustained by falling on a lead-pencil he was carrying in his hand, which may cause him to lose the sight of an eye.

Letroadie sustained his injury last Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock while running for a street car. He carried a pencil, sharpened to a long, fine point, in his hand, stumbled, fell and drove the point into his face below the eyeball. The lead penetrated more than an inch and entered the socket of the eye. The lead broke against the skull at the inner surface of the eye, thus fortunately saving the eyeball from being punctured. The surgeons say that it is a wonder that the pencil did not penetrate to the brain, as the skull where it struck is very thin.

The unfortunate man was removed to the Receiving Hospital in intense agony. The surgeons of the hospital staff called Dr. H. G. Thomas, an expert oculist, into consultation, and he has been assisting in the treatment of the case. If infection does not complicate matters, Letroadie stands a good chance of recovering the use of the injured eye, but care and careful attention will have to be given it for several weeks.

RUEF REFUSES TO AID PROSECUTION

Promised Immunity if He Would Give Testimony in Calhoun Case

The following article appeared in the San Francisco Examiner this morning: Overtures were made to Abraham Ruef in an effort to induce him to give testimony in behalf of the prosecution at the recent trial of Patrick Calhoun. This news, coming as the aftermath of the prolonged trial of the indicted trolley magnate, furnished no end of gossip yesterday in legal circles where the facts became known.

John S. Dunnigan, city editor of the Bulletin, was the emissary who called on Ruef at the County Jail. Dunnigan visited the convicted former political boss on three different occasions. On each he spoke to Ruef concerning his attitude toward the graft prosecution, and advised him to take the witness stand against Calhoun, hinting that he would then be shown consideration in his future dealings with the prosecution.

The first visit to Ruef was made some six weeks ago while the trial of Calhoun was in progress. At that time the former boss was suffering from toothache and was unable to get an order from court permitting him to see a dentist. When Dunnigan called on him, he explained that he had come to see Under-Sheriff Haggerty, and that he had only incidentally dropped in to see Ruef. According to the report of the conversation that ensued, Dunnigan promised to aid in the court order permitting Ruef to visit the dentist.

Makes Other Visits. The two subsequent visits at the County Jail were made at intervals of a few days. In the second instance Dunnigan was accompanied by Connolly, a magazine writer. The third conversation was held in the ante-room just off the main corridor. Careful of the conversation were overheard by the guards.

According to the reports of this meeting between Dunnigan and Ruef, the former advised Ruef to align himself with the prosecution. Dunnigan did not say that he came from any one, nor did he claim openly to have any authority to make any promises to Ruef.

"You would be helping yourself greatly if you would take a stand in the present trial of Calhoun and testify for the prosecution," Dunnigan is reported to have said. "My attitude in this matter has been consistent," is the reply attributed to Ruef, "and unless I change this attitude my testimony in no wise could aid the prosecution."

"An honest statement of the entire trolley transaction on your part, I think, would merit every consideration from the prosecution, and would benefit your cause greatly," was the alluring suggestion said to have been held out by Dunnigan.

"I do not see how any consideration, even to the extent of another one of those immunity contracts," laughed Ruef, "would do me any good. I do not see how there could be any consideration unless the Supreme Court records could be changed."

Further Advances. In reply to the question as to what was this "consideration" would be applied, Dunnigan is reported to have stated that the line of action could be taken up later. Further advances on the part of Dunnigan were evaded by Ruef, and the interview was brought to an unsatisfactory ending. In leaving, it is said, Dunnigan sought to give Ruef the impression that his mission was purely personal and was not prompted by Fremont Older, his employer. During the entire interview, however, he harped on "what the prosecution might be expected to do" in case Ruef "came through."

Details of the meetings between Ruef and Dunnigan became known through attorneys whom Ruef consulted. Former Judge Carroll Cook was told of the overtures made to Ruef, and to the lawyer he is reported to have declared on the part of Dunnigan were evaded by Ruef, and the interview was brought to an unsatisfactory ending. In leaving, it is said, Dunnigan sought to give Ruef the impression that his mission was purely personal and was not prompted by Fremont Older, his employer. During the entire interview, however, he harped on "what the prosecution might be expected to do" in case Ruef "came through."

Oakland's Harbor Dredging.

The Chambers of Commerce of Oakland and Alameda have agreed to recommend the dredging of Oakland harbor to a uniform depth of twenty-five feet by the Federal government under the supervision of Lieutenant-Colonel John Biddle, United States army engineer, in charge of Pacific Coast river and harbor improvements. This will give the harbor a uniform depth of thirty feet at ordinary high tide, which is ample to accommodate the greater number of vessels entering San Francisco bay, with full cargoes. This will be a big improvement on the condition of the harbor as it now is, and will vastly accommodate greater commerce than it can at present. When the dredging is done it will make the construction of wharves along both shores of the harbor possible. But it is not reasonable to suppose that Oakland will be content to let the harbor remain at that depth permanently. The government will itself finally become convinced that the harbor should be made deep enough to admit any loaded vessel that can cross the bar at the entrance to the Golden Gate in safety and enter the bay, for the size of vessels employed in Pacific Coast and trans-Pacific commerce is increasing yearly and harbor improvements wherever carried out in this State must keep pace with the requirements of the mercantile marine.

THE TRIBUNE has already pointed out the fact that the government, under the direction of the United States army engineers, is about to dredge the entrance of San Diego harbor to a depth of thirty feet at ordinary high tide for a width of six hundred feet, and the commercial importance of a harbor having a population immediately tributary to it of four hundred thousand, with a vast and productive back-country behind it, is manifestly of much greater importance than that which has a population of not over forty thousand and no tributary back-country behind it. But if Oakland harbor cannot get a greater depth than twenty-five feet at ordinary low tide at present it is better to content ourselves with that on the general principle that "half a loaf is better than none," and trust later on that Congress and the War Department will be induced to give us the full measure of our wants.

Examples of High Finance.

An instance of high finance in Contra Costa county has been just brought to the attention of the State Board of Equalization which is in some respects a record-beater. The story communicated to the board is to the effect that some time last fall a stranger visited the county named and in response to inquiries was shown a twenty-acre tract on the slopes of Mount Diablo which he bought for $2000 and the deed was duly recorded. Subsequently, another stranger appeared on the scene who was evidently a confederate in the scheme which was finally developed. To the second visitor the buyer of the twenty-acre tract gave twenty mortgages on the same for $2000 each, then conveniently disappeared. The mortgagee then peddled these mortgages around the country, disposing of them at a big discount, but in some instances getting as high as 50 per cent of their face value. Then he disappeared also and the fraud was not discovered until some time after March 1st the whole twenty mortgages were recorded in the County Assessor's office, thus plastering a piece of property valued at $2000 with an indebtedness on paper of $40,000 as the foundation of a contest to determine which of the mortgages has precedence in the satisfaction of its claim.

Almost on a par with this example of high finance is that which has been revealed by the Receiver in charge of the affairs of the defunct California Safe Deposit and Trust Company regarding the liquidation of the People's Savings Bank established by Dr. McDonald, of Vinegar Bitters fame, as a feeder for the Pacific Bank, which closed its doors sixteen years ago when the latter was wrecked by the aged financier and his sons. During these sixteen years the People's Savings Bank has been in course of liquidation with a president, secretary and board of directors. The secretary has in the meantime been drawing a monthly salary which started at $250 per month and was subsequently reduced at stated intervals until it is now limited to $100 per month, and the officers of the concern have drawn regularly their per diem for all directors' meetings held, and yet it is represented that the total assets of the concern have been reduced to $25,000 in securities, while the unfortunate depositors have been whistling for their dividends.

There is a suspicion abroad also that the assets of a national bank which went into voluntary liquidation several months ago under the form of consolidation with another institution of the same type are being manipulated by a system of high financing which promises to result in the total absorption of its $250,000 of paid-up capital stock by the liquidators without any dividends being made to the stockholders out of the percentage on deposit with the Comptroller of Currency and its other assets.

Washington, D. C., has decided this year to have a safe and sane Fourth of July and the public school authorities and the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce are co-operating to that end.

Plans for Children's Playgrounds

The Oakland Children's Playgrounds Commission is already developing plans for the improvement of the public parks under its jurisdiction in a way which cannot fail to receive popular approval. The plans for the playgrounds utilities and the landscaping of Bushrod and West Oakland Parks published in THE TRIBUNE of yesterday give the public an idea of how the grounds are to be laid out for the pleasure and benefit of the rising generation. The early prospect of the development of these playgrounds illustrates the big changes that have taken place in the municipal policies in these latter times.

The ownership of the West Oakland Park land has, for example, been vested in the city for nearly twenty years. The tract of marshland embraced within its area was bought to placate the West Oakland citizens who then complained that they were being taxed for the improvement of park lands in the central part of the city and receiving no compensating returns for themselves. Besides, they had a more serious grievance against the rest of the city, on the grounds that the western marshland was being used as a garbage dump, a public nuisance created and their property interests impaired. The land has, however, since remained unimproved. Many of the West Oaklanders who carried on the crusade for the purchase and dedication of the land for park purposes have, in the meantime grown gray and had almost lost all hope that it would ever be improved. Their long-deferred hopes seem now about to be realized by the development of a public park and children's playground which will be an ornament to the city and of great utility and attraction to the residents of the west side.

Farmers Shut Out Sportsmen.

The farmers of Penn Valley, Nevada county, have found a way to prevent the members of the Grass Valley Sportsmen's Club making a shooting grounds of their farms, by simply entering into an ironclad agreement not to allow any shooting in the valley for a period of three years. The valley has hitherto been the favorite shooting grounds for the Grass Valley sportsmen during the open season for wild doves, the latter being always plentiful there. The farmers have united to shut out the sportsmen in retaliation for the recent arrest of two of their number and the imposition of a heavy fine for the shooting of two doves out of season. The arrests were made at the instigation of the Grass Valley Sportsmen's Club which has been active in the framing of the present stringent game laws which practically converts all the farms in the State into a game preserve for the almost exclusive benefit of a class of gentry of ample means and leisure. By their action the Penn Valley farmers have taught the clubmen a wholesome lesson, and if the example they have set were followed by farmers, vineyardists and orchardists throughout the State it would go far toward breaking up the present wild game monopoly.

According to a recent Chicago statement of the operations of nine of the principal railroad systems in the United States, all excepting the Pennsylvania show an increase in their net earnings for the ten months of the first year 1908-09 as compared with the corresponding period in the fiscal year 1907-08. The net earnings of the Pennsylvania for the ten months ending April 30th, amounted to $33,202,000, or a decrease of $953,000. All of the other nine showed an increase ranging from $649,000 in the case of the Great Northern to that of $5,906,000 by the Union Pacific. The increase in the Southern Pacific Company's net earnings amounted to $5,491,000, and the Santa Fe's increased net earnings amounted to $5,768,000. The record is accepted as positive proof of the great recovery which is being experienced in the railroad business, which is the surest indication of the return of prosperity to the country at large.

According to the Livermore Herald, the hay crop of the district in and around Livermore, the hay crop this year, will amount to twenty thousand tons, which at the present market price is worth $180,000. The crop was harvested this year in perfect condition, being matured and harvested without rain, not a drop having fallen in the valley since March 29th. The rains were so abundant before that date that the crop garnered has been exceptionally large. Every thing this season has also favored other crops, such as grain, grapes and pasturage for cattle, that the total income of the farmers and vineyardists of the valley is this year being estimated at over $500,000. The Livermore people are riding this year on a wave of unprecedented prosperity.

Orders have been issued by the British Postal Department to all of the government telegraph offices throughout the United Kingdom directing the managers to give every facility to the messenger boys employed to become familiar with the sending and receiving of dispatches. The object is to train the boys as operators primarily to help out during the summer rush of business and finally to recruit the operating department.

Among the luxurious but time-saving equipments to be hereafter provided for the convenience of officers in American battleships are electric passenger elevators, whereby the captain may be carried from the gun deck to the fireroom in fifteen seconds, whenever he pleases, returning in the same time.

Topics, Timely and Interesting

The ice man of Chicago will have to spruce up this summer if he wants to keep his cool job. He doesn't get a hot police cell. He must clean up, wear clean clothes, refrain from spitting on the floor of his wagon and stop washing his ice in the horse watering trough. In the first place, all dealers must be licensed, and no ice may be delivered in Chicago except in a wagon of a licensed dealer, according to the ordinance. All domestic ice that is used in connection with food or drink—must be stored where there is no dirt, rubbish or other objectionable material. The ordinance also provides that all ice delivered for domestic use must be washed with clean city water at the time of delivery. Summaries of some other sections follow: "Spitting on the floor or walls in ice wagons, trucks, cars and other receptacles is prohibited; any person in charge of an ice wagon must keep himself and his subordinates clean. No person shall engage in the handling of ice who has any contagious disease in his home."

Referring to the remarkable collection of autographs which Sardou had gathered, and which, with the exception of letters addressed to him personally, were disposed of by his family, a writer in the Paris Temps says: "The collection was especially rich in souvenirs of the great revolution. There were letters written by Siles, the priest-politician, and by Rouget de l'Isle, the author of the 'Marseillaise.' One was written by Drouot, the brave postmaster of Sainte Menegould, who intercepted the fleeing King Louis XVI at Varennes, and one by Carrier the man who arranged the reburial of the guillotined."

Commandant Soule, of the Paris police, has just invented a pair of spectacles for his subordinates which enables them to see behind them. This is accomplished by the simple device of placing a pair of small and very accurate concave mirrors on the outer edges of the spectacles. In this can be seen the reflection of what is happening behind. It is claimed that this does not interfere with the forward view.

According to the wish of sportsmen in Australia, the Rev. J. C. McDonald has inaugurated early half-hour services on Sundays at St. Andrew's church for the convenience of those who cannot attend the ordinary services. The first service attracted about forty persons, including seven ladies, one of whom is a well-known champion golf player. A few of those present were in tweeds or flannels. There were several cyclists and one golfer, whose clubs and cycles were taken care of by the attendants.

At a meeting in support of the Clergy Orphan Corporation the Archbishop of Canterbury gave some interesting statistics with regard to the children of clergymen. It appears that no fewer than 1750 of the celebrities who figure in the Dictionary of National Biography are the children of clergymen, as compared with 510 who are the children of lawyers and 250 who are the children of doctors. If heredity counts for anything this effectively disposes of the time-worn taut that it is the foot of the family who goes into the church.

Ship's Stokers
Their Life and Troubles

One of the strange and common occupational diseases is fireman's or ship stoker's croup. It comes from exhaustion of the stomach from chronically drinking too much water, owing to excessive heat and sweating in the stoke hole. It is partly prevented by fine oatmeal flour in the drinking water.

It is curiously odd that in this glorious era of invention there is no substitute for the human stoker, who undoubtedly represents one of the greatest tragedies of this industrial age, for it takes only a few months of stoking to rob these unfortunates of most high mental, moral and human qualities, and the peculiar drain upon them gives an insatiable alcoholic thirst, which they proceed to quench at their home ports.

On service no small sign of alcoholism is ever permitted them, else the ship would stop steaming at once. Owing to their chronically weakened stomachs they stand alcohol worse than any other man, a few drinks sickening and maddening them for days. It takes strong drugs like calomel and castor oil to get the alcohol out. Because of the immense and immeasurable necessity stokers are to this age the great ports of the world should give them special grace, hospitality and kindness; they should not be clubbed up and fined, and hospital service, as so often happens, should not be denied to them.

If it were not for drunkenness it would be difficult if not impossible to run the steamship commerce of the world. Few except imprudent and improvident drinking men would ever stand two trips stoking. In point of injuring body and soul the stoke hole is a modern form of the old galley benches—perhaps the blackest spot in all humanity's history of man's unkindness to man. Many of these unfortunates wisely or unwisely commit suicide. They jump overboard, "go over the side," as they say, and few of these poor wooden-shaft can swim.

lition wedding' at Nantes. There were also letters from Robespierre, Marat and Danton, and one written by Mirabeau, in which a dispute between himself and the Marquis de Sade is described. Camille Desmoules, who went to his death in 1794 with Danton is represented in the collection by a letter to his wife, in which he addressed her 'My soul, my life,' and Saint Just, who died on the guillotine, by a long communication in which the twenty-seven-year-old terrorist says: 'I am making myself useful here working for the public weal, et volia tout.' Letters from Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI are not missing. One note from the monarch to his father reads: 'The king requests a canopy over the crib of the prince royal, and a narrow bed, with canopy, for our royal Madame.'"

In the land of the free, where every citizen is proclaimed in stump speeches and even in more dignified addresses as a sovereign, titles of foreign monarchs are supposed theoretically, to be of no importance. Yet in no place is there a more delicate consideration and solicitude shown for the proper and exact designation of the ruler of a monarchy than in our own bureau of naturalization in the Department of Commerce and Labor. For instance, a native of Austria who wants to vote for a President of the United States forewears allegiance to Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, but your prospective voter from Budapest or any other place in the length and breadth of Hungary protests his willingness to give up fealty to Francis Joseph, Apostolic King of Hungary. The ordinance

POLITICAL COMMENT

Senator Bailey's latest name in Washington is "The Champion Choker."

Isaac V. Baker of Comstock, Washington county, N. Y., sees no reason why Superintendent of Prisons Collins should not appoint him warden of the new state prison, which is to be built at Comstock on land which Mr. Baker sold to the state several years ago. There was a great scandal over the sale of this land to the state. Mr. Baker has held half a dozen offices in his time, notably those of state superintendent of prisons and state railroad commissioner. It is said, though, that Mr. Collins does not see his way clear to give Mr. Baker the place he now desires.

Adlai E. Stevenson is to print a book entitled, "Something of Men I Have Known." Will Mr. Stevenson print his experience with Mr. Cleveland at Buzzards Bay in 1897?

It was in that year that Mr. Cleveland was renominated for the presidency and Mr. Stevenson was his running mate. The notification ceremonies were held in Madison Square Garden. Mr. Stevenson came on from his home in Bloomington, Ill., and stopped at the Hoffman House on his way to Buzzards Bay, where he was to show Mr. Cleveland his letter of acceptance as the candidate for vice-president.

Mr. Stevenson was very proud of the letter, when he read it to a group at the Hoffman House, and moreover, it was nearly four columns long. On his return from Buzzards Bay to read it in the Madison Square Garden somebody had slit the gas out of it until it was only a column long. The question has frequently been asked if Mr. Cleveland did this cruel deed.

Either many Democrats in New York City now holding office are concerned over the outcome of the approaching municipal election or they are becoming wiser as they become older, for it is now known that for a number of months many of these Democratic office holders hitherto without the pale of civil service have been studying up and have been admitted to the civil service. As a matter of fact neither the Strong administration nor the Low administration seemed to be greatly concerned over the restrictions of the civil service law and acted in a majority of instances, as it is related, for all the world just like wicked organization Republicans and Democrats.

Reflections of a Bachelor

The remarkable thing about a woman is that she can bring up not only half a dozen children but their father. When a man thinks he's the real head of the family he's intellectually equipped to think also he can work out perpetual ary Hungarian is particular about emphasizing this distinction, but no more than the director of the naturalization bureau in Washington. Englishman, Irishman, Scotchman, or Welshman who wants to become a citizen forsakes the sovereignty of Edward VII, King of Great Britain and Ireland; so do the would-be Americans from Barbados or Canada or New Zealand or Australia; but when Bhicaji Pranjali Balsara, the Parsee, who first saw the light in Bombay and who was made a full citizen of the United States about a month ago, took his oath before Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court it was allegiance to Edward VII, Emperor of India, "especially among all foreign princes and potentates," that he renounced.

The Countess of Aberdeen, who is now in this country, is on her way to Canada, where she is to preside over the quinquennial gathering of the International Council of Women. "Lord Aberdeen, even if he had not been Lord Lieutenant of Ireland," says The Manchester Guardian, "would not have been free to accompany the Countess to Canada, for the Dominion has a curious unwritten law. It is that no one who has held the position of Governor General should ever return. This is because a returning Governor General would have to take an inferior rank to that he had formerly held. There are four former Governors General still living—the Duke of Argyll, the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Earl of Aberdeen and the Earl of Minto—and by this law they are forever debarred from revisiting Canada."

Scientific Notes

Some excellently preserved frescoes were unearthed at Pompeii by a restaurant keeper, who discovered them while excavating on land adjacent to some recently discovered tombs.

Caustic soda may be recovered from all substances containing it, by heating the material to 212 degrees Fahrenheit with others of cyclic or acyclic series whose boiling point is greater than 212 degrees Fahrenheit, and by precipitating from the resulting solution.

The experiment, relative to the antityphoid vaccination of the men in the army, has met with no opposition whatever, and has been readily accepted by all of the enlisted men.

A new form of flint has been invented by August Weisbach, originator of the incandescent gas mantle, through an alloy of iron and thorium, which thus results in a flint which may be called an everlasting match, owing to its rapid development of heat when lightly struck against iron.

Archaeological treasures of the greatest importance are expected to result from the excavation of the ancient Italian city of Adria, an Etruscan seaport buried, in the course of ages, beneath the alluvium of the Po and the Adige.

Hydrogen dioxide is considered the most prospective for milk, on account of its ultimate decomposition into innocuous products.

Owing to the prevalent reports concerning the danger to various diseases that may result from wireless telegraph waves, Mr. Marconi personally denies any such statements, saying that during the twelve years of his operations he has never suffered from any such cause, and has never known of any case resulting from it.

The former danger of compressing acetylene gas has been eliminated through the labors of Claude and Hess, who have discovered that by dissolving the gas in 90 per cent acetone, by means of steel cylinders containing a porous mass of infusorial earth into which the gas is forced after the admission of acetone, all explosive properties disappear.

Fires That Have Never Gone Out

In Siam is a fire that not only lasts for years but has what have been aptly termed "lineal descendants." It is to be found in a Buddhist temple near Bangkok, where every fourth year at a certain period the priests light a fresh fire in a big brazier. This flame is kept alive for four years and is in turn extinguished after supplying a brand to ignite its successor. Inasmuch as this practice has obtained for upwards of two centuries, the Buddhist fire of Bangkok is in a sense the oldest in the world.

Another long term fire is said to exist at Sarhad, Persia. This flame is a symbol of religious fervor and it is death to extinguish it; it has burned for seventy years. In explanation of this curious rite it is explained that the Persians, rigid Mohammedans and regarding their former fire worshipping faith with distaste, nevertheless suffer the Sarhad flame to continue to display their gratitude for a service rendered a high official of the Persian government many years ago. At that time, it is said, a pious Parsee, who had come to trade at Sarhad, was the happy means of saving the Grand Vizier from assassination. So the grateful Shah of that day ordered that the fire lighted by the Parsee should be kept alive indefinitely.

There are some regions of the earth, like those inhabited by the Esquimaux, where the motive for retaining fires for long periods lies in the great difficulty of obtaining means for lighting a new one. One traveler reports seeing a fire in Lapland that had not been extinguished during seven years. It had been carried from place to place in an old ship's bucket.

The keeping up of fires for years at a time is said to be sometimes an incident of a Sicilian vendetta. The wronged individual when lighting his "fire of vengeance" is said to take solemn oath that it shall not be extinguished until his thirst for revenge shall have been satisfied by the death of the offending person. There is on record a trial in Palermo wherein it was shown that the accused, charged with murder, had kept his kitchen fire alight for five years.

CRIME IN
Greatly on the
INCREASE

One would like to believe that the committee on "Law Breakers" at the Buffalo Conference of Charities and Correction is right in its declaration that serious crime is not on the increase in the United States. While it seems to be fairly well settled that crime is decreasing the world over, we have seen no statistics which do not indicate that the United States, Canada and Germany are exceptions. The showing for this country has been especially bad.

According to statistics published each year by the Chicago Tribune—undoubtedly more complete of recent years than in the past—the last thirty years have seen a very substantial increase in the number of murders and homicides.

Year.	No. murders and homicides.	No. per million people.
1835	1896	32.2
1837	2345	39.8
1839	2567	48.2
1841	3006	52.4
1843	6515	99.5
1845	10,500	152.2
1847	9520	152.8
1849	8255	133.6
1851	8275	138.4
1853	7862	129.9
1855	8234	131.7
1857	7967	124.4
1859	8212	131.9
1861	7850	128.9
1863	8712	142.4
1865	8952	142.8

These figures indicate a slight falling off since the year 1860. It may be that this was what prompted Bishop Fellows and his committee to assert that serious crime was on the decline. It is only necessary to point to the great difference between last year's homicide rate of 12.8 per million and the 32.2 per million reported in 1855 to see how little comfort may be extracted from the decline of a few points.

But the committee is right, of course, in urging that it will not do to grow too pessimistic over crime statistics. They are the poorest statistics in the world. As a country improves in civilization, more laws are placed on the statute books and more infractions are reported. Life and property are considerably safer in Massachusetts than they are in Morocco, though the official reports would show Massachusetts up rather badly and make Morocco apparently the seat of the blessed. Before the moot question as to the increase or decrease of crime in western society is settled we shall have to have better statistics on international crime than are yet at hand—Chicago Post.

Wireless Telegraph Diseases

A French naval surgeon has observed facts which he thinks warrant him in attributing certain morbid conditions to overexposure to the electrical waves employed in wireless telegraphy. For the most part they have affected the eye, generally in conjunctivitis, though in one instance there was keratitis. Eczema, too, has been observed, and the author thinks that many cases of neurasthenia are attributable to the current. He remarks that induced currents are a common product of the action of the apparatus, and intimates that these may cause trouble among other persons than those immediately concerned in the telegraphic operations. He recommends that operators be provided with blue or yellow spectacles.—La Tribune Medicale.

PUZZLED OVER WHO SLUGGED SULLIVAN

Politician Declares He Was Struck From Behind by Unknown Assailant

THUGS HIRED BY HIS ENEMIES, IS RUMOR

Detective Declares He Fell Down and Cut His Head on Stone

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A number of stories are being told regarding the injury sustained yesterday morning by Attorney Francis J. Sullivan, brother-in-law of James D. Phelan, and prominent in local politics. The lawyer himself still claims that he was assaulted by an unknown man, who deliberately struck him with a blunt instrument on the head as he was about to enter his office in City Hall avenue. He would make no further statement this morning other than to confirm the original version of the affair. His wife stated that she thought he would be able to get out later in the day.

Skull Not Fractured

Henry Gibbons made a careful examination of the wound in Sullivan's head, and stated positively that the skull had not been fractured.

The attorney's version of the affair differs widely from that of Detective Sergeant Wren, who, after an investigation based upon newspaper reports, asserted that Sullivan had fallen on the sidewalk while entering his office, and knocked his head against the stone projection.

On the other hand, there are faint rumors flitting about here and there to the effect that there was a regular encounter and a battle of fists opposite the ruins of the old city hall and that the politician went down and out from a blow delivered from the front, and struck his head upon the pavement. There is still another story which is believed by many to the effect that Sullivan was deliberately slugged by a slinger hired by his enemies.

ARMED WOMEN OUST WORKMEN

Drive Laborers From Job They Claim Their Husbands Should Have

WASHINGTON, Pennsylvania, June 22.—Armed with guns and clubs, stones and other weapons, a score of women prevented thirty-five laborers from commencing work on a proposed new highway near here today. From 7 o'clock in the morning until late last night the women remained at their posts and not a stroke of work was done by the laborers.

The township road supervisors have sent after a detachment of State police. The trouble began when a contractor appeared at Avella with a gang of workmen to begin work on a road leading from Avella to Independence. Women of Italian living in the vicinity of the road claim their husbands had been promised the work on the new highway.

Drive Off Workmen

Other men were given employment and when they were ready for work the band of infuriated women swept down on them and for a while the air was filled with missiles and the laborers dropped picks and ran to the shelter of a nearby wood. It is feared if any further attempt is made by the laborers to resume work, it is stated that the husbands of the angry women stand ready to open hostilities.

MORE TREES ON BAY ISLANDS, LATEST PLAN

A communication from the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce requesting that the city council endorse the project of planting trees on the islands of the bay that visitors and residents might get the benefit of the ornamentation, was referred to the public service committee last night. In event of the several bay cities endorsing the project the government will be asked to give the necessary permission.

Great Island and the other small parcels of land dotting the bay will be the objects of ornamentation with shrubs and trees.

RECEIVERSHIP ENDED

BISHOP GUEST OF CATHOLIC KNIGHTS

Local Council Extends Welcome to New Co-Adjutor of San Francisco Diocese

SIXTH ANNIVERSARY OF ORDER IS CELEBRATED

Right Reverend O'Connell in Forcible Address Tells of Good Work of Lodge

The Knights of Columbus of this city gave a loyal welcome last night to Right Rev. D. J. O'Connell, co-adjutor to Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco at the Hotel St. Mark, and at the same time celebrated the sixth anniversary of the establishment of Oakland Council No. 784 of the order.

There were more than two hundred people present, and not a few of them were ladies. This was the first time that the local organization opened its doors, so to speak, to others than the members, and the result was the presence of many ladies and an evening of enjoyment which was unalloyed.

In connection with an excellent menu, all the features of which were discussed with appreciation by the guests, there was a program of intellectual and oratorical efforts which was not less appreciated than were the morsels which had been provided by the management of the hotel.

Many Respond to Toasts

The intellectual features comprised responses to toasts as follows: "Our Order," by Rev. T. J. O'Connell, chaplain of Oakland Council, Knights of Columbus; "Our Country," by John J. McDonald; "Our Brother Councils," by Neal Power, past grand knight of the Pacific Council, Knights of Columbus; "The Ladies," by W. J. Hays. George P. R. Clark delivered an entertaining address which had not been included in the set speeches; Judge William R. Gearty rendered a vocal solo and the entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the assemblage. The principal speech of the evening, however, was delivered by Archbishop O'Connell, who was the honored guest of the evening. The church dignitary was greeted with applause as he rose to speak and at intervals during his address there was a renewal of evidences of appreciation.

Praises Order

Among other things, he said: "I cannot tell you how much I appreciate the honor conferred upon me, nor how grateful I am. It is an honor of which any one might be proud, and I am sure more than pleased at feeling that I am at home among you. I feel with a heart or human feeling in my bosom can leave his home without some sort of pang, and I thank you for the feeling of home you have given me this evening."

"I have met many bodies of the Knights of Columbus, but I think that the Oakland Council is in advance of them all, because your members have brought in tonight to you Knights of the Pacific Coast of the highest esteem in which your councils are held in the east."

"I have seen your grand knight and supreme grand knight speaking from the same stand with his eminence Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland. The hierarchy and the Knights of Columbus are one, and this is as it should be."

The exercises were presided over in a masterly manner by Vincent A. Dodd, grand knight of Oakland Council, Knights of Columbus. The committee in charge of the entertainment comprised: A. J. McInnis, chairman; Dr. Joseph L. Milton, M. J. Keller, Rev. F. C. York, Rev. J. B. McNally, Rev. F. J. O'Connell, John J. Rigney and Frank M. Corliss. The officers of Oakland Council No. 784, Knights of Columbus, are as follows:

Fast grand knight, the late John E. McElroy and Dr. Joseph L. Milton; grand knight, Vincent A. Dodd; deputy grand knight, Frank M. Corliss; financial secretary, Matt R. Bronner; recorder, Joseph W. Finn, chancellor, George F. R. Clarke; warden, John J. Rigney, advocate, Bernard McPhaden; inside guard, Joseph T. Harrington; outside guard, William F. Duddy; lecturer, Frank L. McGill; trustees, George T. Mahoney, Bernard A. Smith and John J. Kennedy.

VISITS ODDEST RACE OF SAVAGES IN WORLD

NEW YORK, June 22.—Frederick Taylor, a member of the Royal Geographical Society of London, arrived here yesterday after a most eventful exploration trip to the Andaman Islands, on which he says is the oddest race of savages in the world. The Andaman Islands are east of the Bay of Bengal and about 560 miles southeast of Calcutta. Several noted archeologists ascertained a number of "cave" ages in the island. A Gardner of Eden it was probably located in the Andaman Islands. Arriving there last September, Taylor explored all the islands and became well acquainted with the tribes of savages. He says the islands are jungles from shore to shore and that the tribes live in small villages. Only a few persons had ever seen a white man before. Taylor, who is preparing his report for the Royal Geographical Society, has devoted the last thirty or forty years to exploring out-of-the-way places.

Rev. Father Theodore Keller Is Advanced to the Priesthood

REV. FATHER THEODORE KELLER, Who was Ordained As a Priest at St. Mary's Cathedral at Pontifical High Mass.

Rev. Father Theodore Keller, who was ordained as a priest this morning by Archbishop Riordan at pontifical mass in St. Mary's Cathedral of San Francisco, is a brilliant student of the biblical law. The remainder of the time was passed in preliminary and preparatory work.

Father Keller took his degree in theology four years ago in the seminary. He is said to be a splendid orator and a brilliant student of the biblical law. During the years he was securing his education at the seminary, where four of his brothers are studying for the ministry, he was proclaimed an able young man who was destined to lead in thought as well as letters. ## CONVICT, FACING DEATH, PARDONED

Dr. Ralph A. Huntington, Dying of Consumption, Is Given Liberty

With his life almost spent in a hopeless struggle against the ravages of consumption and a seven-years' battle against the clutch of the law, which sent him to San Quentin for the murder of his sweetheart, Jennie McKown, Dr. Ralph A. Huntington of San Francisco has been pardoned and is today in Fruitvale, the guest of Dr. Daniel Crosby.

Dr. Huntington was arrested in 1902 when it developed that he had caused the death of the girl he was to have married. The first trial ended in his being sentenced for manslaughter to ten years' imprisonment. He appealed his case, got a new trial and was again convicted. This time being sentenced to four years in San Quentin. Meanwhile the strain had broken his health, and the confinement hastened the development of tuberculosis. It was apparent some time ago that he had but a short time to live, and his old friends began whoring him for Governor in an appeal for a pardon. It was refused until the prison surgeon recommended it as an act of mercy.

GIVES FULL SUPPORT TO PRESIDENT TAFT

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Senator Bourne is among the Republicans who give unconditional support to President Taft in his efforts to obtain an income tax amendment to the constitution and an amendment to the tariff bill permitting a tax on the net earnings of corporations.

Speaking today of the movement, Mr. Bourne said: "This is the psychological moment for the adoption of a great reform in revenue raising and corporation control, and the proposed provision properly drawn must insure publicity, to the government at least, as to all corporation earnings and thus eliminate in the future the possibility of concealed equities. Corporations would be popularized and tendencies toward Socialism would be minimized."

GIRL IS VICTIM OF BRUTAL ASSAULT

SAN DIEGO, June 21.—Although the police have detailed every spare man on the force to the case, no clues to the identity of the brute who assaulted Miss Woodridge early Sunday morning have been obtained. Mrs. Woodridge was on her way home shortly after midnight when she was attacked by a man she thinks was a Mexican. Striking her several heavy blows about the head and face, she fled, then threatening to kill her if she made an outcry, savagely tore all her underclothing from her body. After accomplishing his purpose he fled into the darkness.

Physicians say the young woman is still in a critical condition.

CITY WANTS POWER TO MOVE BACK BUILDINGS

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Silverwater at a meeting of the city council last night which has for its purpose supervision and control in building lines. It provides that all buildings may, at the discretion of the Board of Works, be placed back from the property line. In certain residence districts this would give the street the effect of being park and would tend to make the city beautiful.

The question immediately arose as to the constitutionality of the ordinance and it was referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

SAN FRANCISCO SLOT MACHINES ARE BARRED

City Fathers Avert Threatened Invasion by Favoring Limit to Licenses

LEGALITY OF RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Councilman Vose Tells Danger of City Being Flooded After July 1

An effort was made by Councilman Vose last night at a meeting of the city council to prevent a threatened invasion of Oakland by the nickel-in-the-slot men of San Francisco after July 1.

The San Francisco ordinance prohibits play on slot machines after July 1. Already dozens of owners are preparing to invade Oakland, where the gambling will be permitted until October 1.

In supporting this resolution Councilman Vose said:

"We all know that Oakland will be second on the list of the host of nickel-in-the-slot men of San Francisco after July 1. We gave our own owners and dealers on this side of the bay permission to continue to October 1 merely because we did not wish to confiscate the property. This privilege is theirs and does not belong to San Francisco. I would suggest that the city treasurer be instructed not to issue any license to any person who at the present time has not a permit to run a machine."

Entire Council Agrees

The entire council agreed with Vose, but Councilman Ellsworth pointed out that the treasurer might not have any authority under the law to refuse a license unless an ordinance was passed immediately limiting the number of slot machines in the number of saloons is now limited.

To settle the question of legality of such procedure the matter was referred to the license committee in conjunction with the city attorney.

Councilman Vose's resolution is in full as follows:

Whereas, the ordinance preventing operation of nickel-in-the-slot machines in San Francisco takes effect on July 1, 1909;

Whereas, it is rumored that the owners or lessees of such machines in San Francisco intend to operate their machines in Oakland for the period of three months from July 1, 1909, to October 1, 1909, and to procure licenses for same; and

Whereas, the ordinance prohibiting operation in Oakland of nickel-in-the-slot machines will take effect October 1, 1909, now therefore be it

Resolved, That for the protection of the saloons in Oakland paying licenses on such machines the city treasurer be authorized by resolution to issue any licenses for the period between July 1, 1909, and October 1, 1909, except to those now having licenses and not in excess of the number of said machines now being licensed by each owner or dealer.

UPHOLDS INDICTMENT AGAINST ATTORNEY

NEW YORK, June 22.—The demurrer to the indictment charging Sanford Robinson with impeding and obstructing the administration of justice, was overruled today by the United States Circuit Court here today. Counsel for Robinson has contended that his client was justified in refusing service of papers by a deputy United States marshal, inasmuch as only a marshal has authority in that matter. The court decision places deputy marshals on the same footing as marshals.

Robinson, together with Arthur P. Heine, F. A. Heine, Carlos Warfield, vice-president of the Ohio Copper Company, and Calvin O. Grier, a clerk in the office of the United Copper Company, for preventing a deputy marshal from serving a subpoena on Harry S. Buckingham, clerk in the employ of the United Copper Company, and arranging for his departure for Canada.

FACES CHARGES OF CRIMINAL LABEL

Author of Vicious Attack on Berkeley's City Official is Known

CITIZENS INDIGNANT OVER THE ALLEGATIONS

Action Will Likely Be Begun Against the Author and Circulators

BERKELEY, June 22.—Great indignation is being expressed on the streets of Berkeley today at the vicious attack and underhand methods of the authors and circulators of the venomous circular attacking the personal actions and public records of some of Berkeley's most trusted officials, and the authors are being made at the office of Chief of Police Vollmer that those behind the movement be discovered and brought into the courts to prove their charges or face a suit for criminal libel.

The Berkeley police and a force of detectives have been working on the case in the event that the district attorney should advise that suit for damages and criminal libel be brought, and the authors and some of the circulators are now under the cognizance of the police. The police refuse to make public their discovery until they have absolute proof of the charges, but they are free to admit that all the evidence points to a certain clique who have been seeking vengeance upon the Berkeley officials as the result of having been defeated in the election of various officials.

It is said that if suit for criminal libel is brought, the author and printer of the circular will be liable in every county in the state for damages. If this plan is adopted and the district attorney will mean that those behind the movement will have to pay big sums of money in damages or spend a term of years in the penitentiary.

The stirring use of the name of Mrs. Henry Jameson, wife of Detective Sergeant Jameson, who is a well-known and highly respected matron of Berkeley, is the principal cause of the indignation of the citizens.

VETERANS TO GET DOUBLE BACK PAY

Survivors of Northern Indian War to Be Paid by Oregon and Washington

ALAMEDA, June 22.—City Engineer I. N. Chapman and his comrades of the Northern Indian war will probably draw an equivalent of back pay from both the Washington and Oregon treasuries, as word has been received through Martin Taylor of Portland that both states have agreed to pay the veterans who fought to save the territory which afterward was admitted as states of the union.

Chapman had already received notice that he would receive back pay from Washington and Taylor was informed that he had an equal amount due from Washington. When they will discuss their former campaign and engage in reminiscences of former days when the Northwest was young.

Chapman and two other men are the sole survivors of Captain Burnham's company, which was organized in 1855 of comrades in Burnham's company. Ward was in Captain Cook's command and was with that company when they were guarding against the Indians who were attacking with an overwhelming force of Indians where Wain Wain now stands.

Chapman and his comrades were in the line for three days and nights until rescued by Burnham's company, which was brought about by a friendly Indian who made his way through the hostile tribes in the dead of night. Ward was badly wounded by an arrow in the side during this fight and bears the scars of his wound to this day.

When he persisted in his flight she hurriedly informed her husband of the incident and the fugitive was overtaken and given proper punishment as a preliminary step to the action of law in the matter.

WENT BACK VIA THE BURLINGTON

And they didn't go until they were ready and when they were nobody in the world could have sold them their tickets but the people of the Burlington office.

Here are the facts: Last fall Mr. Harry Ramey, then temporarily at No. 208 Valley street, San Francisco, called at our office with his wife and little son. He stated that he had Bright's Disease and had been given up by the physicians and that after being in one of the hospitals they were told of the hopelessness of the case and he was on his way back to Missouri to die among his friends. It was a sad little party.

They had just been to the office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company to buy their tickets.

E. A. Mudgett was behind the counter. He has a heart in him and has saved the lives of several people by telling them of Fulton's Renal Compound. When he learned of Ramey's trouble, he told him he could recover and to defer his trip until he had seen him and gave him a card with our address, hence his visit.

To make a long story short we did not hear from him for over 6 months when Colonel Barnborn, the popular agent of the Burlington, called and told us of the happy denouement.

seems the matter had entirely passed their minds when a little woman called at the office of the Burlington and purchased the long deferred tickets. Said she: "You do not know me but it was I who came with my husband who was so ill with Bright's Disease." She gave the pleasing information that he had made a complete recovery and that they had called three times in an endeavor to express their gratitude. All the eloquence in the world could not have talked them into buying their tickets over another route and the Burlington has three steadfast friends.

Many Coasters Now in .300 Class

Duffey Lewis' Stickwork Improves; Stings Ball at .272 Clip

Zeller and Johnson have picked up in their batting averages and are slugging over .300. The "mighty" Beall of the Los Angeles club had a bad week against the Athletics and a corresponding depreciation is noted in his average. He is at .272, formerly he had hit .312. Bernier, who is in the .300 class, but he cannot be taken with the regulars as he has not taken part in many games.

Duffey Lewis' stick has gone up and now he is finding that at a .272 clip, where before he only stung the leather .255. Cameron and Willie Hagan are holding their own, while Murphy has advanced himself a few pegs. La Londe and Cecil Lewis have both taken a slump, the one going down from .249 to .221 and the other from .255 to .219. Carroll had also a hard time of it and has stepped backwards 36 points.

Alerts Beat Carriers; Maxwells Win Again

The speedy Alameda Alerts won from the Transportation Club Sunday on their home grounds by the score of 14 to 3. The game was a close one, the Alerts having been out in the last two weeks. The Alerts have been coming "front" with a rush and the Transportation Club has been a good deal of a struggle to keep up with them.

Last Chance for Fans to See Donlin in Ball Game

Local fans will have the last chance to see Mike Donlin in a baseball uniform tomorrow morning at the State League grounds, when an exhibition game will be played between the stage hands and the ushers. In the last contest the front of the house men came out on top, but Mike intends to turn the tables in the coming struggle, and all week the scene shifters have been out practicing under the careful eye of the former New York Giant. Everybody welcome.

Recruits Win in the Ninth

In a fast and hotly contested game Sunday afternoon the Recruits defeated the St. Vincent nine of San Rafael, 6 to 3. The game was fast and furious throughout and it looked as though St. Vincent would carry the day, but in the ninth inning, with the score 5 to 3, the Recruits had a batting rally which netted them 3 runs and the game.

STANLEY KETCHEL, LIKE CONQUERING HERO, RETURNS TO SAN FRANCISCO

GREAT MIDDLEWEIGHT LOOKS FIT AND READY FOR BATTLE

Jimmy Coffroth to Protect Himself With Cross and Hyland by Signing Each With Packey McFarland.

By EDDIE SMITH.

WHY it's "Our Teddy" returning from Africa. "Hock de Kaiser"; it's a great man from Germany. God save the king. I know that it will prove a British diplomat. Such were the remarks passed by some of the wise men who gathered about the red tallo-ho that stood at the ferry building yesterday afternoon awaiting the arrival of some personage of great importance.

The ferry boat landed and the crowd began to come off; then the crush about the high-top coach, drawn by four near race horses grew worse. Everyone wanted to see who this great personage was, and when he did put in his appearance, attired in New York's latest fashions, no one knew him for the second. It was only a second, however, for the boys of the street knew him and the big shout "Ketchel" went up all about the tallo-ho, and the middleweight champion in the real old John L. Sullivan style stood at the driver's seat and showered small money pieces to the crowds.

It was a great crowd that gathered to witness the arrival of the champion and fully two thousand people surrounded the rig before the fighter, with perfect coolness, took up the lines and essayed the role of a driver of four over the slippery and crowded streets of San Francisco. All along the way Ketchel attracted great attention, and one would have been led to believe that Caesar had awakened and was triumphantly entering the city of San Francisco.

Ketchel Looks Good

Ketchel certainly looked a picture sitting on the high seat of the driver and his great physique and most beautiful appearance never showed off to better advantage. The party drove to the Fairmont hotel and there the fighter and his party registered, after which they again drove about the city in the big red tallo-ho.

Everywhere Ketchel went he was greeted with eyes of admiration. He looked a little pale of color, in fact it might be said he had a sort of sallow complexion. This condition was best explained by the fighter when he stretched himself and said, "Oce, but it's a long ride from New York."

Ketchel appears to be at least an inch taller than when he was last, and he broadened a bit, the trading of weight for power, however, will be easy for him. It is believed in the claims of weight he made while in the East.

People raved over the healthy and spirited appearance of Papek when he landed, and he is talking of it yet. But in my life I have never seen a man with more natural ruggedness and perfect fighter's actions and manners than this fellow Ketchel.

Billy Roache Will Referee

Last night Ed Papek and Willie Britt, each representing a fighter, met at the office of Jimmy Coffroth and the final arrangements for the match were arranged. The $2000 side bet was eliminated from the articles and the selection of the referee being the only thing remaining the men got down to business immediately.

In the original articles the names of Eddie Graney, Billy Roache, Trv Kraljevic and Eddie Smith were inserted. Last night Papek picked the name of Graney and insisted that he be the third man in the ring. Coffroth and Britt objected, and after considerable wrangling the other three names were put into a hat and the name of Billy Roache was drawn out by Louis Blot. Billy will therefore referee the contest.

Ketchel will go into training at Miller's Wednesday and from then on he will stick strictly to business. From now until then he will devote his time to taking his fatherly brother about the ring, and showing them the lights.

It is the first time that either the father or brother was ever out of the state of Michigan, so you can imagine the fun Stanley will have at their expense. Papek is already training at the Seal Rock house, and says that he is ready to go.

AMATEUR BASEBALL GAMES

Royals Make Amicitias Bite the Dust

The Oakland Royals defeated the Amicitia Club Sunday by a score of 11 to 6. The features of the game was the hard hitting of the Royals, and also the catching of Best and the pitching of H. O. Meadows, both of the Royals, who allowed the Amicitias only 8 hits, while the Royals had 15 hits marked to their account. There was a sensational play by the home team, especially by Dupuy, who did a few sensational stunts on first base.

Coffroth to Sign Leach Cross

Promoter Jim Coffroth will visit Leach Cross and Young Corbett at Shennan's this afternoon for the purpose of having Corbett sign articles for the coming Corbett-Frayne contest and also have Cross sign an agreement to meet Packey McFarland if he wins from Dick Hyland.

When Cross was first brought here Coffroth was only half-hearted in his desire to sign him with McFarland, but after watching him at his work and listening to the boasting the New York star is getting from all quarters it would seem that he has experienced a decided change of mind.

Cross is one of the cleverest of the lightweight in the game and it is easy to see that if he can show the strength and lasting power to go the full distance he will give Hyland a merry time. Hyland has already signed the agreement to fight McFarland if he is the winner, and as to the date of the contest a return match with Battling Nelson can be depended upon to go the limit of his possibilities before admitting defeat.

Has Cut Out Boxing

Cross is suffering from a severe cut over his eye received while boxing with Mike (Twin) Sullivan, and this has necessitated a layoff in the boxing for a few days. As the time of the battle is now so short it is hardly expected that Cross will do much boxing, as he will not want to take any risk with his hands near the date of the contest.

Jack Perkins, manager of Dick Hyland, has announced that his man will be in far better condition than he was for Nelson and that he will win the coming contest. Perkins tests said that Hyland can beat either McFarland or Cross with his famous kidney punch in a long fight, and that is another try at the champion with the weight a little different he will be the lightweight champion of the world.

The anxiety of the promoter to sign the two men for future matches adds class to the bout and also makes it take on a greater amount of importance. It was of the idea that the contest would not amount to much he would care little as to what happened to them after his contest was over and come with, but now that he is protecting himself again a possible cut over by either man it shows that he has his eyes open for an opponent for Nelson.

Prominent Fighters

When such fast fighters as Abe Attell, Young Corbett, Harry Lewis, Aurelio Herrera, Kid Herman, Charlie Neary, Maurice Sayers, Johnny Summers, Spike Robson, Tommy Murphy, Young Otto, Tommy Quill, Willie Moody and Young Loughery fail to take a man's measure he must just be a speed merchant. They are not the cleverest and greatest lightweights in the profession.

His record is a creditable one, as not a single man in his class, with the exception of Freddie Welsh, who got a close decision over him in twenty rounds at New Orleans, has ever been able to defeat him. Veterans have managed to get decisions over him while he expects to put the Californian up in the air with his lightning-like left-hand jab and that at the right moment he will show him away with his knockout right, which he claims to possess in his right mitt. While his record doesn't show many victories over the sleep-prone heavyweights, it does show that he proved his ability to carpet an opponent for the full count on more than one occasion. Jimmy Kelly lasted but a single round. Young McGovern three. Dal Hawkins four. Kid Lavigne was knocked out in six rounds, and Joe Galligan in five rounds. His strong point is speed and foot-work, his left hand being his most effective offensive weapon.

As Ernie is the classiest fighter who has yet faced Powell in the ring, a good line can be gained on the latter as a victory over the Philadelphian will go a long way toward making him a star, where Ernie is deemed a worthy challenger for the title. That Powell realizes the importance of the battle is shown by his efforts to get in the pluck of condition. Heretofore he contented himself with a little work at one of the athletic club's gymnasiums, but for next Friday night bout he is conditioning himself at Joe Miller's camp.

GAME AT CENTERVILLE.
Centerville was again victorious in a ten inning game against the Lash Batters of San Francisco by a score of 5 to 4. The work of Harrison and Norris was the feature of the game.

The next game will be played Sunday between Centerville and the Goodyear Rubber Company of San Francisco.

wanted to go back in organized baseball, but he was not allowed to. He is now satisfied with the club and the way we are running now we are going to give the other clubs a run for their money."

Forrester Best Pitcher In State League, Says Manager McDonough

Manager McDonough dropped in with his band of main stars yesterday afternoon from the Fresno belt. In discussing the series with San Francisco the new leader of the Tigers said that Tom Hackett's men played good ball; in fact, excellent, but they were simply outclassed. "Why," says McDonough, "we have a good team now and in fine condition. The players are all going well and we expect to hand the Oakland outfit an awful wallop. Just watch us."

"Jack Forrester is working the best he has for a long time and, you know, I consider him one of the best slab artists in the league. Two years ago I played with the Detroit Americans. The following season found him with the Johnstown Club, where he played about half of the season. He jumped Johnstown to go to Fort Worth. In the early part of the year he bought his release from Fort Worth and came to the Pacific Coast to join Fresno.

KETCHEL'S Triumphant Entry Into San Francisco, Likened to Charles Dana Gibson's Drawing, "The Champion." The Fighter was the Center of Attraction for Admiring Eyes Every Place He Wandered.

Erne's Ring Career Pitching of Ehman Happened by Accident

"Ti Yi Erne," the clever Philadelphia lightweight, who will make his California debut next Friday night at Dreamland pavilion in a twenty round bout with Lew Powell, got his start in the fighting world in a most peculiar manner. He was simply a lucky accident. With no intentions of donning the gloves and participating in a prize fight, Hugh Clinvin, a sturdy Gray's Ferry youth, coughed up his coin and went in to see some four and six round bouts in Lew Bailey's Broadway club on the same evening that Terry McGovern and Frank Erne fought in New York.

A couple of budding scrappers who were fighting under the names of Young McGovern and Young George Dixon were on Bailey's card, but the kid who had assumed Dixon's name failed to put in an appearance. A substitute was looked for and Clinvin volunteered to go on and fight "Terrible Terry's" namesake. In making the announcement, Lew Bailey laughingly said, "Young Erne and Young McGovern will be the next event."

While the genuine Terry knocked out Erne in three rounds in Gotham, the kid who had been dubbed "Young Erne" made good in a similar number of rounds. From that night he continued to make good and today he is considered to be one of the cleverest and greatest lightweights in the profession.

His record is a creditable one, as not a single man in his class, with the exception of Freddie Welsh, who got a close decision over him in twenty rounds at New Orleans, has ever been able to defeat him. Veterans have managed to get decisions over him while he expects to put the Californian up in the air with his lightning-like left-hand jab and that at the right moment he will show him away with his knockout right, which he claims to possess in his right mitt. While his record doesn't show many victories over the sleep-prone heavyweights, it does show that he proved his ability to carpet an opponent for the full count on more than one occasion. Jimmy Kelly lasted but a single round. Young McGovern three. Dal Hawkins four. Kid Lavigne was knocked out in six rounds, and Joe Galligan in five rounds. His strong point is speed and foot-work, his left hand being his most effective offensive weapon.

As Ernie is the classiest fighter who has yet faced Powell in the ring, a good line can be gained on the latter as a victory over the Philadelphian will go a long way toward making him a star, where Ernie is deemed a worthy challenger for the title. That Powell realizes the importance of the battle is shown by his efforts to get in the pluck of condition. Heretofore he contented himself with a little work at one of the athletic club's gymnasiums, but for next Friday night bout he is conditioning himself at Joe Miller's camp.

GAME AT CENTERVILLE.
Centerville was again victorious in a ten inning game against the Lash Batters of San Francisco by a score of 5 to 4. The work of Harrison and Norris was the feature of the game.

The next game will be played Sunday between Centerville and the Goodyear Rubber Company of San Francisco.

Forrester Best Pitcher In State League, Says Manager McDonough

Manager McDonough dropped in with his band of main stars yesterday afternoon from the Fresno belt. In discussing the series with San Francisco the new leader of the Tigers said that Tom Hackett's men played good ball; in fact, excellent, but they were simply outclassed. "Why," says McDonough, "we have a good team now and in fine condition. The players are all going well and we expect to hand the Oakland outfit an awful wallop. Just watch us."

"Jack Forrester is working the best he has for a long time and, you know, I consider him one of the best slab artists in the league. Two years ago I played with the Detroit Americans. The following season found him with the Johnstown Club, where he played about half of the season. He jumped Johnstown to go to Fort Worth. In the early part of the year he bought his release from Fort Worth and came to the Pacific Coast to join Fresno.

Erne's Ring Career Pitching of Ehman Happened by Accident

"Ti Yi Erne," the clever Philadelphia lightweight, who will make his California debut next Friday night at Dreamland pavilion in a twenty round bout with Lew Powell, got his start in the fighting world in a most peculiar manner. He was simply a lucky accident. With no intentions of donning the gloves and participating in a prize fight, Hugh Clinvin, a sturdy Gray's Ferry youth, coughed up his coin and went in to see some four and six round bouts in Lew Bailey's Broadway club on the same evening that Terry McGovern and Frank Erne fought in New York.

A couple of budding scrappers who were fighting under the names of Young McGovern and Young George Dixon were on Bailey's card, but the kid who had assumed Dixon's name failed to put in an appearance. A substitute was looked for and Clinvin volunteered to go on and fight "Terrible Terry's" namesake. In making the announcement, Lew Bailey laughingly said, "Young Erne and Young McGovern will be the next event."

Saturday to Be Tag Day for Benefit of Unions' Orphanage

One of the Cottages of the Union Men's Orphanage at San Lorenzo.

The Union workmen of this city and vicinity are endeavoring to establish an orphanage at San Lorenzo and have, thus far, succeeded in a most satisfactory manner. They have secured the home of the late Captain Roberts at San Lorenzo on most reasonable terms and are now seeking funds for the purpose of financing the institution. With this end in view they are selling stock in the enterprise and have decided on Saturday next as "Tag Day," when they hope that every person who has at heart the welfare of the homeless child will contribute his or her mite toward the fund for the cause.

On the grounds at San Lorenzo there are provided several cottages of a spacious character, and in these the little homeless ones will find shelter, maintenance and training on various avocations which will make them useful members of society.

Tags For Children

Tags will be sold at the rate of ten cents apiece, and there are few persons who cannot afford to purchase a few of them when it is known that the money so paid out will aid in the uplifting of tender children who have, through a variety of misfortunes, been deprived of their natural protectors.

Yesterday the subject of aiding the union men in this good work was referred to and endorsed by the clergymen in the various churches of this city. In this connection the following circular, which more fully sets forth the details of the enterprise, has been issued and circulated very freely in all parts of the county:

"To the Friends of the Orphan: This appeal is made in the trustful hope of interesting the friends of the orphan in Alameda county to the extent that they will aid in making Tag Day for the Union Men's Orphanage at San Lorenzo a success. Saturday, June 26 has been fixed upon as Tag Day. The mayors of the cities of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda have granted permission for the day and pledge the aid of their administrations.

"This orphanage was established in December, 1908, and incorporated December 24, 1908. It is located at San Lorenzo, on the late Captain Roberts' place. An option was taken on ten acres of land which are among the most fertile in the county. The land was bought at auction for $12,000, and it is estimated that there are $25,000 in improvements on the place, consisting of substantial buildings, orchards, gardens, etc. According to adjacent values, the land is easily worth $1000 per acre. That price has been offered by investors for the bare land.

For Good Citizenship

"The cottage plan is unique in charitable institutions, there being only one other of the character in the state and through the liberality of the late Mrs. F. M. Smith, the Cottage Home for Girls, and the plan is thoroughly modern and proves highly acceptable wherever it has been tried. By this method the individuality of the child is preserved, and its advantage over the big building and dormitory plan is evident. It is calculated to equip the child for the best citizenship.

"Money is needed to protect the option and needed at once. The orphanage is now caring for six children, with twenty on the waiting list. The money realized from the sale of tags, stock, etc., will be used in making first payment and enlarging accommodations. The board of trustees is now temporary, and a permanent board will be elected by the stockholders.

"It is highly important that funds be raised at once in order that this magnificent property may be retained for the purpose of an orphanage. It is a most laudable undertaking, and you are kindly asked to assist in any way that seems best to you.

"In behalf of helpless ones who need protection and are, we thank you for the assistance that we feel certain you will extend. Kindly reply at once in order that we may know the extent of your co-operation.

"FRANK SPRAGUE, Secretary.

"By order of officers and directors, and Board of Trustees, Union Men's Orphanage, San Lorenzo, California."

ANKLE IS BROKEN ON EAGLE PEAK

Miss Margaret A. Gerrity of This City Meets With Accident in Yosemite

YOSEMITE, June 22.—Miss Margaret A. Gerrity, an employee in the Oakland Postoffice, broke her ankle yesterday afternoon while making the trail to Eagle Peak. She had climbed with a party of friends up the tortuous trail to the summit of the Yosemite fall, and feeling ambitious and anxious to see snow for the first time in her life, she trudged on to the top of the ridge, an altitude of nearly 9000 feet. It was just as she started to descend the mountain that she slipped and fell, landing on her ankle. Her friends helped her limp along for a mile or two down the mountain, but when they reached the bottom, they had been sent to her aid, arrived and carried her on horseback to Camp Curry, where she is now being given the best of care.

Miss Gerrity arrived at the camp the day after F. P. Shepherd registered there, and by a curious coincidence he had just advised that of the ill-fated tourist, who was lost last Thursday and has not been seen since.

WOMAN IS INJURED.

While hunting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Edna Demers of Fruitvale met with a painful accident. While in the act of opening a glass door in a house on Fallon street, near Seventh, which she was inspecting, she jabbed her left leg through the glass panel, cutting the fingers and wrist severely. Her injuries were dressed at the Receiving hospital.

MINER IS ONLY WEALTH CREATOR

Cecil Rhodes Declared That Mines Proved Splendid Business Ventures

Cecil Rhodes, whose immense fortune, accumulated in mining ventures, made possible the creation of the Rhodes scholarship of world-wide repute, was a firm believer in the soundness of mining from a business viewpoint. Following is an extract from a speech delivered by him in America some years ago:

"Mining is the only business on this earth that increases the wealth of the world without robbing or infringing on the rights of others. The miner is a man who finds wealth; he creates wealth, if you please, without juggling it out of some one's pocket into his own. Mining has always been the quick road to fortune, and of late it has become the sure and most certain road to great wealth. A country of great mines always becomes a country of great wealth, influence and power, and what you can say for nations you can say for men.

Great Inducements

"I have made a great study of this question, and have had statistics, not only of Great Britain and Africa, but of the world, carefully compiled relative to this proposition, so that I might not be in error. This investigation shows that mining has always offered greater inducements than any other business in the world to make quick and great wealth and that every private fakir and adventurer has sought that field, like the counterfeiter seeks to imitate the best coin.

"In the business of the world mining is the best of all coin, and mining, as conducted today, readily eliminates the fakir or adventurer, and is as safe a business as the old-time real estate business in a country neighborhood.

Risk in Farming

"This investigation further shows that farming is more risky than mining; that 32 per cent more people lose money and fail in farming than do in mining; that 23 per cent more people lose money and fail in mercantile business than in mining; that 41 per cent more people lose money and fail in the manufacturing business than in mining; and that 17 per cent more people lose money and fail in banking than in mining, and that more men lose money and fail proportionately in any of the professions than in mining.

Wrong Investments

"Of course, you can lose your money in mining, if you put your money in a mine that is worthless, that has no minerals in it, and in the same way you can lose it if you invest in a store which contains no merchandise, or in a bank which contains no money. Investigate your mining before you invest in a mining company. This is easily done, and you will then make no mistake. Good business men who would not buy a store without buying the goods at least twice will buy a mining stock without even knowing the country the mine is in, nor what kind of a mine it is, and then wonder that they lose money. It is not uncommon for a good money man to pay the holders of the stock pounds for every share that they invest. Often £100 (£500) invested in good mining stock will pay the fortunate holder more than £20,000 ($100,000) could possibly pay him if invested in municipal bonds, railroad bonds or railroad stocks. You all know men and women who have suddenly sprung into riches, and it is safe to say that 90 per cent of these people became suddenly rich because they invested their little or part of what they had in a good mining company.

"I know people who put their all in these California companies and who made more than $1000 for every dollar they invested. I know an old mother from Warwick, who invested her all in California in 1850, which was about $100. In three years it paid her $122,000 (or $610,000). Just think of it!"
